Re: Notice of Ex Parte Presentation, CG Docket No. 02-278 in relation to Petition for Declaratory Ruling and/or Retroactive Waiver and Ex Parte Presentations In Relation to – filed by Kohll's Pharmacy & Homecare, Inc.
and
Application for Review of Waiver Petition re North American Bancard, LLC

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On December 6, 2016, Daniel A. Edelman, Margot Saunders of NCLC and I met with met with Kurt Schroeder, Nancy Stevenson and Nellie Foosner of the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau staff of the FCC. Margot Saunders spoke concerning the spoke with staff about the overarching procedural problems caused by these retroactive waivers. Daniel Edelman and I discussed, in part (1) the Petition for Declaratory Ruling and/or Retroactive Waiver and related Ex Parte Presentations by Kohll's Pharmacy & Homecare, Inc. and specifically in order to inform you of the numerous misrepresentations contained therein; and (2) to discuss the Application for Review related to waiver granted to North American Bancard. Specifically, we discussed the following:

- A. Ex Parte Communications and Petition for Declaratory Ruling and/or Retroactive Waiver filed by Kohll's Pharmacy & Homecare, Inc.

In connection with the Kohll's Petition and related submissions, Mr. Edelman and I informed you that the Petition and related submissions are, in large part, based on false statements of fact including but not limited to the following:

Kohll's represents to the Commission that the faxing was a one-time occurrence and that a waiver is necessary because treble damages are being requested – “even though it only sent one facsimile to each business.” In fact, while Kohll's may not have been repeatedly sending the identical fax to the identical list, the March 3, 2010 Corporate Flu Fax was not the first advertisement sent by facsimile. Kohll's engaged in blast faxing for years. Starting as early as 2004, it routinely used Westfax to broadcast various faxes. Discovery in the case shows over 50 invoices for transmissions to groups of a few dozen to a few thousand based on various selected criteria. (See Invoices in *Exhibit A*¹)

Kohll's also represented to the Commission that 577 of the 4,142 recipients of the March 3, 2010 faxes had an established business relationship with it. This too is false. Kohll's purchased a list for the marketing campaign and specifically attempted to remove existing customers from the list. If there is in fact any significant overlap between its customers and the fax broadcast lists, it is because Kohll's obtained business through the faxing. The evidence in the litigation includes e-mails wherein Laurie Dondelinger, the Marketing Manager who handled list acquisition, assisted in document (advertisement) review and ultimately sent the faxes, discusses the criteria for the list which is purchased from a third party. (Exhibit B, p. 35; Exhibit C) Rather than reaching current customers, the evidence indicates that the intention of Kohll's was that the fax was to be sent only to new or prospective customers. The evidence shows that Kohll's deliberately reviewed the purchased list and removed customers from it before the transmission. Exhibit B, pp. 67-69 Several e-mails among Kohll's decision makers shows a discussion wherein they communicate that customers (as well as competitors) should be removed from the list prior to the faxing. Marketing Manager, Laurie Dondelinger, emailed numerous recipients on February 10, 2010 requesting that "if you want this to go blast fax (I recommend that – quick and economical) – please let me know which companies we are already contacted with so I don't send to them." (Exhibit B, p. 39). A separate email states: "Attached is the list of Des Moines, Chicago and St. Louis companies with over 100 employees. Please let me know which ones NOT to send out this blast fax to because they are current customers." Subsequent emails show that the request was complied with, as can be seen by several responses to the email indicating that removals or updates to the list: "[t]he only customer we have on here is FBL Financial in Des Moines. I am just starting on the other cities this year so all should be good to go." (Exhibit C).

Contrary to the representations made by Kohll's, it was not acting in good faith. The Dondelinger emails also show that she (and other Kohll's employees) were aware of the TCPA and that junk faxing was illegal prior to the sending of the fax that is at issue in the Ballard lawsuit. In advance of the transmission, e-mails between Dondelinger and co-workers discuss the statute and share a link to it: "Laurie, Joe B. said blast faxing is illegal...what do you know about that." In a subsequent email, Laurie writes to a distribution list that, "... it look like technically we should only blast fax (or junk fax) to companies we have a previous relationship with. <http://www.fcc.gov/cgb/policy/TCPA-Rules.pdf>. ... I think this is one of those things that a lot of companies do and if they get a warning will stop. It would depend on if a lot of the companies we fax it to turned us in." Exhibit B, p. 45).

This is not a case of a one-time mistake or ignorance of the law. This is a situation where the advertiser was aware that it was violating the statute and chose to proceed with the belief/hope that no one would complain. Kohll's had been informed of the statute, knew the requirements for being in compliance and the repercussions for failing to do so. It decided to take its chances in the hopes of gaining profit. (Exhibit B, p. 34) The evidence in the record shows faxes were ordered by Kohll's marketing manager over a lengthy period of time for purposes of getting business, both flu vaccination and other products. No evidence exists in the record or elsewhere to suggest that the March 3, 2010 fax was, in any way, related to a request by the CDC or to communicate a CDC warning about the flu. In contrast, the evidence in the litigation reflects that the facsimile was created and sent to sell vaccines. Kohll's simply compared the cost to other means of marketing and determined to continue using faxing despite the fact that it was violating the law.

In addition, Kohll's is not a "small business." It has revenues of over $20 million per year. (Exhibit D) It has insurance which is providing a defense. (Exhibit E) Kohll's has one law firm defending the lawsuit and a second to make representations to the FCC inconsistent with the information provided in the lawsuit. The implication that Kohll's that the potential damages Kohll's faces in the litigation a judgment on behalf of the 4,142 class members are "crippling," as stated by its counsel by a judgment on behalf of the 4,142 class members is also false.

Also, the time of the request is problematic. In most cases, the party opposing the request has not had the opportunity to take discovery or other means of contesting the statements made by petitioners. Here, the faxing at issue is the subject of a class action lawsuit filed nearly seven years ago with a certified class of 4,142 persons and entities each of which received the advertisement from Kohll's on March 3, 2010 related to its "Corporate Flu Vaccine Program." (Exhibit F) The Cook County action, commenced on April 20, 2010, has been the subject of two of appeals and summary judgment was recently decided. Despite Kohll's assertions, the Court has declined to delay the matter pending its petition and the parties will soon proceed to trial. (Exhibit G)

Ballard submits that the statements and materials submitted by Kohll's represent a false effort to manufacture an appearance that it (1) sent the facsimile to persons / entities with whom it had a relationship; or (2) sent the facsimile in an effort to educate the public. The statements are not properly supported and are in fact contradicted by the documented evidence in the currently pending litigation. In light of this and for the reasons set forth more fully above and in the Comment of Ballard RN Center, Inc. in Opposition to the Petition of Kohll's Pharmacy & Homecare, Inc., the petition for declaratory ruling and/or retroactive waiver filed by Kohll's should be rejected.

B. Application for Review of Waiver Petition re North American Bancard, LLC

On November 2, 2016, the Bureau granted North American Bancard, LLC's ("NAB") waiver petition. West Loop Chiropractic & Sports Injury Center, Ltd. and West Loop Health & Sports Performance Center, LLC. have submitted an Application for review requesting that the Commission vacate the waiver granted to NAB on November 2, 2016 and, in connection therewith, we discussed the fact that NAB obtained the waiver without showing either that anyone consented or that it was confused. NAB actually claims that the faxes were sent out by marketing agents and that it is unaware of what they do, so it could not possibly show consent. Further, NAB has had multiple TCPA cases against it, defended by sophisticated counsel, who were familiar with the FCC's positions on the TCPA. Zoes v. North American Bancard, Inc., 03 CH 17879 (Cir. Ct. Cook Cty., Ill.), as well as for other TCPA violations. See Fountain v. North American Bancard, LLC, 4:12-cv-00459 RAS-DDB (E.D. Tex.) (Alleged violation of the TCPA); Mey v. North American Bancard, LLC, 2:14-cv-11331-DPH-MJH (E.D. Mich.) (Alleged TCPA violation for telemarketing call to cell phone); Mey v. Patriot Payment Group, LLC and North American Bancard, LLC, 5:15-cv-00027-JPB-JES (N.D. W.Va.) (Alleged TCPA violation for telemarketing calls to cell phone); Mey v. North American Bancard, LLC, 5:14-cv-00022-FPS (N.D. W.Va.) (Alleged TCPA violation for telemarketing calls to cell phone). NAB was clearly familiar with the statute and regulations, and chose not to comply. The West Loop plaintiffs submit that under these circumstances, the any presumption of confusion has been rebutted and a waiver should be denied.

In addition to the above, we discussed certain policy considerations which Ms. Saunders has separately addressed in correspondence of today's date. We thank you again for your time and consideration. Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me. You may reach at 312-739-4200 or by email at jclark@edcombs.com.

Julie Clark

EXHIBIT A

Declaration of Barry Clark

I, Barry Clark, declare:

1. I am now, and have been since 1999, the President of WestFax, Inc. ("WestFax"). As a result of my role in WestFax, I am familiar with WestFax's processes and procedures mentioned or referred to in this declaration. WestFax's processes and procedures described in this declaration were in effect throughout the period that Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare ("Customer") used WestFax's fax broadcast services. For purposes of this declaration, I am WestFax's custodian of the records referred to in this declaration. I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth herein.

2. As explained below, the records referred and attached to this declaration are duplicates of records regularly maintained in the course of a regularly conducted business activity and were made at or near the dates and times reflected therein by, or from information transmitted by, a person with knowledge, and were made as a regular practice.

3. WestFax offers fax broadcast services to its customers, among other services. WestFax's fax broadcast services allow customers using the WestFax web portal to send orders of single or multiple fax pages to the recipients' faxes machines as designated by the customers. WestFax's records indicate that Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare was a fax broadcast services customer of WestFax during the period 2004-2012. WestFax did not provide any email related services to Customer.

4. Attached hereto as Exhibit 1 are true and correct copies of the WestFax, Inc. Account Set-Up Form (WF 1); Account Profile Form (WF 4); and the Customer Service Agreement between WestFax and Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare (WF 2-3). The Customer Service Agreement is the only written contract between WestFax and Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare found in WestFax's records for fax broadcast services. There were no written amendments to the Customer Agreement found in WestFax's records relating to fax broadcast services rendered by WestFax to Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare. The form of the Customer Agreement as included in Exhibit 1 at WF 2-3 was the standard form of contract for fax broadcast services used by WestFax in the regular course of its business. Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare also agreed to the Terms and Conditions set forth on Westfax's website each time they used Westfax's fax broadcasting services.

5. WestFax assigns each of its customers a unique account number and assigns a unique user id and password so that the customer can access WestFax's web portal to send fax broadcasts. WestFax assigned Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare its unique account number, No. 3024.

6. A customer's use of the WestFax's fax broadcast services is self-service. WestFax is not involved in the content of the fax to be sent, nor is it involved in creating or determining the list of fax telephone numbers to which a customer's fax is to be transmitted. In order to send a fax broadcast using WestFax's services, the WestFax customer logs onto the WestFax web portal using its user id and password. From there the customer is prompted through a series of steps whereby the fax broadcast is arranged. First, the customer designates and uploads to the WestFax web portal the fax telephone numbers to which the customer intends the fax to be sent. This can be done on a fax number-by-fax number basis. But often a customer will upload a list of fax telephone numbers to which the fax is intended to be sent.

7. Once the fax telephone numbers are designated and uploaded by the WestFax customer, the customer is next prompted to designate and upload the fax image that it wishes to send. The customer can view the uploaded image to ensure that the correct document(s) were uploaded. After that, the customer is given the choice of designating a specific date and time for the fax broadcast, and if no specific date and time is designated, then the fax broadcast is sent on an "as soon as possible" basis.

8. Once the customer goes through the foregoing processes and procedures, the fax is transmitted over WestFax's proprietary system of computer software and hardware. The WestFax system automatically assigns the fax broadcast a unique broadcast number that appears on WestFax's Work Order Detail reports, emails with attached transmission reports, transmission reports (such as exception and detail reports) and billing discussed later in this declaration. In addition, the customer can give the fax broadcast its own reference identification. This identification appears on the foregoing documents..

9. Upon completion of the fax broadcast, the type of report selected by a customer is automatically created by WestFax's system and automatically sent via email to a recipient designated by the customer. In this case, the designated email address for the customer included, initially lbrown@kohlls.com and later ldondelinger@kohlls.com. The information contained in WestFax Work Order Detail reports, email reports and transmission reports (such as a detail report or an exception report) is contemporaneously recorded by WestFax's system. A WestFax transmission report (Work Order Detail report) is created and emailed in the regular course of WestFax's business typically on the same day as the fax broadcast is completed. To the best of my knowledge, WestFax's Work Order Detail and transmission reports are accurate and reliable. I base this belief on the general absence of complaints or objections to these reports by WestFax customers. I was and continue to be in a position to learn and would have learned of any such complaints or objections of any significance. Also, I base this belief on the fact that WestFax uses and relies on the accuracy and reliability of the information reflected in its Work Order Detail and transmission reports to bill its customers. WestFax only charges customers for completed facsimile transmissions as further explained in Paragraphs 12 and 16, below. Westfax does not charge for transmissions that are not completed or failed. There is no record found in WestFax's records relating to the Customer of any complaint or objection made by the Customer to any transmission report issued by WestFax to the Customer or to any billing issued by WestFax to the Customer relating to fax broadcast services rendered by WestFax.

10. Attached hereto as Exhibit 2 is a true and correct copy a screenshot of the document uploaded to the WestFax web portal by Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare in connection with a fax broadcast transmitted by it over WestFax's system on March 3, 2010. The format and layout are typical and representative of WestFax's web portal view of a document uploaded for delivery using WestFax's fax broadcast services throughout the period that by Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare used WestFax's fax broadcast services.

11. Attached hereto as Exhibit 3 is a true and correct copy of a Fax Order Detail for a fax broadcast transmitted by Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare over WestFax's system on March 3, 2010. The format, layout and contents of this Fax Order Detail is typical and representative of WestFax's Fax Order Detail throughout the period that the Customer used WestFax's fax broadcast services. A WestFax Fax Order Detail view contains information also contained in an email accompanying a WestFax transmission report (such as an exception or fax order detail report): the broadcast name (corp flu - corp fax list); date created (3/3/2010); list count (4760); and job status (complete).

12. Attached hereto as Exhibit 4 is a true and correct copy of the WestFax, Inc. Invoice for fax broadcast services which took place on 3/3/2010. (WF 42). The form of Invoice as included in Exhibit 4 was the standard form of Invoice for fax broadcast services used by WestFax in the regular course of its business. The Invoice was issued to Kohll's Pharmacy & Homecare with account number, 3024 and dated March 6, 2010. The Invoice indicates that Job BFX-02069666; which the customer named "corp flu - corp fax list" involved transmission of 4,142 pages at a cost of $165.68.

13. Attached hereto as Exhibit 5 is a true and correct copy of a Fax Order Detail for a fax broadcast transmitted by the Customer over WestFax's system on March 3, 2010. A WestFax detail report contains information on fax telephone numbers that were completed or sent a fax broadcast. The "Result" column on a detail report contains the word "SENT" signifying that the facsimile transmission to that fax telephone number on the same line of the report was completed to that fax telephone number as further explained in Paragraph 16, below. In addition, the "Pages Sent" column contains a number signifying the number of pages of the fax broadcast sent. In the case of Exhibit 5, the number "1" is contained in the "Page" column signifying that a one page fax was completed or sent to those corresponding fax telephone numbers and the number "0" is contained in the "Page" column signifying that no pages were completed or sent to those corresponding fax telephone numbers.

14. With respect to WestFax Fax Order Detail attached as Exhibit 5, the attached report has columns with information contained in them: Column A: "Job Sequence" contains the job number for the fax broadcast (BFX-02069666); Column B: "Job Name" contains the name given by the Customer for this fax broadcast ("corp flu - corp fax list"); Column C: "PO Number": contains the word "laurie" entered by the customer; Column D: "Date(UTC)" contains the date of the fax broadcast (3/3/2010); Column E: "Phone Number" contains the fax telephone numbers attempted to be sent a fax broadcast; Column F: "Pages Sent" contains "0's" consistent with the fact that the facsimile transmission to the corresponding fax telephone number was not completed and "1's" consistent with the fact that the facsimile transmission to the corresponding fax telephone number was completed; Columns G,H and I contains the names connected with the fax telephone number as contained on the fax list used for the fax broadcast; and Column K entitled "Result" records a successful transmission in those circumstances where the fax was delivered without incident, e.g. sent; alternatively, it records the reason why the attempted facsimile transmission was not completed, e.g., busy, connection interrupt, invalid number, no answer, no fax device, operator intercept and removal list.

15. One can ascertain the fax telephone numbers to which a fax broadcast was completed or sent by reviewing those recorded as "sent" on the Fax Order Detail report.

16. In order to be reported as completed or sent on WestFax Work Order Detail reports, emails attaching a transmission report and Summary Invoices, the facsimile transmission typically had to go through each of the following phases of facsimile transmission that starts with a telephone call or other transmission being placed and the opening of a telephone or other connection between the WestFax system's sending device and the receiving device: (1) Call establishment — the WestFax system's sending device begins transmitting a calling tone, what some persons call a "fax tone"; (2) Pre-Message Procedure — this is often referred to as a "beep" and/or the fax "handshake" and during this phase the sending and receiving devices automatically exchange information about their capabilities and other things; (3) In-Message Procedure and Message Transmission — the data constituting the fax (now in binary form) is transmitted; (4) Post-Message Procedure — is reached when an end-of-page, end-of-message, or other terminating instruction is transmitted by the WestFax sending device. An end-of-page or end-of-message instruction will cause the receiving device to return to a prior phase for transmission of additional pages, if any; and (5) Call Release — the WestFax system's sending device transmits a disconnect signal or disconnects. The facsimile transmission ends with the conclusion of this phase. The WestFax system automatically monitors these phases as they take place and if the phases are completed, then the WestFax system reports that the facsimile transmission has been completed and this information is, in turn, automatically placed onto Work Order Detail reports, emails with attached transmission reports, the transmission reports (such as exception and detail reports) and Summary Invoices. A result of "SENT" is only recorded by the WestFax system for a facsimile transmission when all five phases of the facsimile transmission are completed without any indication of failure as further explained in Paragraph 12 above and Paragraph 17, below.

17. If, however, the WestFax system monitoring the fax broadcast detected a failure of any of the above phases, including initial start up of the telephone call or other connection, the particular transmission would be recorded as failed. This information is, in turn, automatically placed onto WestFax's Work Order Detail reports, emails with attached transmission reports and transmission reports (such as exception and detail reports).

18. Attached hereto as Exhibit 6 are a true and correct copies of additional WestFax invoices delivered to the Customer covering the period April 2005-August 2011. These invoices were automatically created and delivered to the Customer in the regular course of WestFax's business at intervals agreed upon between WestFax and the Customer. As stated above, the information contained on WestFax's invoices is taken from the same transmission information contemporaneously recorded by WestFax's system and used to create and issue Work Order Detail reports, emails with attached transmission reports, transmission reports (such as exception or detail reports) and only the completed facsimile transmissions are charged by WestFax to its customers as further explained in Paragraphs 16-17, above.

19. All of the fax broadcasts performed by WestFax for the Customer were sent from WestFax's facilities.

20. Based on my technical knowledge and experience, I can state that WestFax's reports to Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare, as well as WestFax's invoices to Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare accurately and reliably reflect the number of successful faxes in each of Kohll's Pharmacy and Homecare's fax broadcasts i.e.s the number of faxes transmitted and received without error. I can further state that this included transmission of the image represented in Exhibit 2 to 4,142 of 4,760 fax numbers as detailed in Exhibit 5 .

I declare that the foregoing is true and correct.
